About the Underlying Fund - Invesco Global Consumer Trends Fund

Positioning & Outlook

The fund remains dominated by digital lifestyle themes, which currently represents majority of the portfolio. The remaining portion of the portfolio is focused on more traditional consumption and experiences and is based on the resumption of "normal" lifestyles as economies reopen and consumers begin to venture out into public settings and even resume travel.

As is to be expected when the market is making large gyrations that impact companies we are highly convicted in – The team is engaged in constructive debates to determine where something might be missed, and where the market is offering us a chance to benefit investors. The next few months may be volatile as the market looks to gain conviction in inflation levels, but eventually, fundamentals are going to matter again and there is a lot of inefficiency and opportunity in our longer-term growth companies today. We think there is a powerful mix for a surge in consumer spending over the year as the low-end consumer continues to benefit from government stimulus payments and enhanced unemployment benefits. An even more powerful "Wealth Effect" from increased home values and strong market performance is giving high-end consumers increased spending power.

We believe change is the fuel for growth. Our deep fundamental research seeks to identify "share-takers," which are companies that can gain market share through technology-enabled advantages in their business models and with offerings that benefit from the continued disruptive shifts in consumer behaviour that we expect.

1. Flexible approach - Flexible fund with a concentration towards companies that are expected to profit from changing consumer discretionary trends: currently eCommerce, digital media consumption, demographic shifts towards experiences over material goods or towards healthier lifestyles, and other global consumer durable and non-durable goods cycles.

2. Rigorous investment approach - The team's investment approach is a bottom-up, research-driven process which enables them to narrow the field of stocks to identify those companies best able to capitalize on key themes driving consumer spending.

3. Experienced team - The fund managers of underlying fund, Ido Cohen (lead) and Juan Hartsfield offer clients an average of 22 years' fund management experience.
